DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-17 and 29, drawn to a pulse jet printhead or automated pulse jet printing system, classified in class 436, subclass 518.
- II. Claims 18-23 and 28, drawn to a method of depositing a volume of fluid on a substrate or an array produced by the method, or a kit including the array, classified in class 435, subclass 4.
- III. Claims 24-28, drawn to a method of detecting the presence of an analyte in a sample or a kit including instructions according to the method, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process, such as a process that uses a printhead that does not have a resistor element on a surface of a semiconductor substrate.

Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product such as a process of hybridization without the step of detecting the presence of binding complexes on the surface of the array.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions and different effects because invention II is a method of making an array and invention III is a method of using an array.

Upon election of one of the above invention, Applicant must amend the claims as necessary such that it no longer depends on an invention that is not elected. For example, if invention II is elected, claim 18 must be amended so that it no longer depends on claim 1, and if invention III is elected, claim 24 must be amended so that it no longer depends on claim 23. Likewise, if Applicant elects invention II or III, Applicant must further amend claim 28 so that it does not depend on an invention that is not elected.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for one group is not required for the other groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
